

ICARUS – Track 2. FOR YOUR LOVE

You know me – you and I have been this way before,
And you know that no one else could love you more,
If you could see the mirror in my eyes,
Then fin'ly you would come to realize,
That you're al-ready everything you're meant to be,
Beside me, we can have eternity... wait and see.

When we stand at the door,
Wondrin' what we're fightin' for,
And you ask me to wait,
Hoping that it's not too late,
You say that you need just a little time to think it through,
Well, I'm as scared as you,
But I - I'm fighting too... For Your Love... for your love.

These walls can only keep your heart a prisoner,
No turnin' back from who we are,
I know you – every beat of you so well,
You're hiding - hiding from yourself,
And it's all here – there's nothing else that this can be,
It's always – always been you and me... can't y'see.

When we stand at the door,
Wondrin' what we're fightin' for,
And you ask me to wait,
Hoping that it's not too late,
You say that you need just a little time to think it through,
Well, I'm as scared as you,
But I - I'm fighting too... For Your Love... for your love.

All we need - is a little trust,
All we need - is to relax,
All we need is right in front of us,
Open up and face your heart.

When we stand at the door,
Wondrin' what we're fightin' for,
And you ask me to wait,
Hoping that it's not too late,
You say that you need just a little time to think it through,
Well, I'm as scared as you,
But I... I'm fighting too for your love.
For your love.
For your love.
For your love.
